Philips announces an 11% manufacturer- to-end-user rebate on the 9400 or 9450 models of the Philips Digital Pocket Memo® portable recorders

Concord, OH – Dolbey announces its participation in the “Trade up to Philips” 11% rebate promotion on 9400 or 9450 Digital Pocket Memo portable recorders.

This manufacturer-to-end-user rebate program benefits those who trade in their current portable recorders for a new Philips Digital Pocket Memo 9400 or 9450. Eligible dictation portable recorder for trade-in include: Dictaphone, Grundig, Lanier, Norelco, Norcom, Olympus, Philips, Sanyo and Sony.

Here is how it works: With the purchase of a 9400 or 9450 Philips Digital Pocket Memo from Dolbey, one recorder from the list of eligible trade in manufacturers can be traded in (1:1 ratio) for the 11% rebate on the purchase price. Once the new unit is received, the user simply fills out the rebate form and sends it to Philips. Upon receipt of the rebate form and a copy of the original purchase invoice, Philips will email or fax an authorization number along with detailed shipping instructions for the trade-in units. Upon receipt of the rebate coupon, proof of purchase and trade in units, Philips will issue a check based on the number of eligible Digital Pocket Memo recorders on the invoice and the number of units traded in.
